

Introducing The New Telwares, The Only Provider Delivering Seamless Solutions Across The Entire Telecom Spend-Management Lifecycle

GREENWOOD VILLAGE, CO, November 7, 2007 - Vercuity and its highly regarded professional services division, Telwares, launch today as the new Telwares, the number-one provider of comprehensive telecommunications spend-management solutions and expense lifecycle technologies under a single corporate umbrella.

This strategic initiative combines the complementary expense management services of the former Vercuity and Telwares under a single unifying brand. Customers will immediately experience efficiencies and economies through a broadened and integrated suite of services for managing wireline, wireless, data and international telecom spend, supported by a seamless technology platform.

"We are proud to come to market today as the new Telwares," said Robert Knowling, Telwares CEO. "Enterprise customers need visibility, control and savings across the entire telecom spend management lifecycle. With an unmatched suite of professional services and the industry's leading technology platform, Telwares is the best positioned provider to serve customers globally."

The new Telwares solution set ranges from sourcing to invoice processing, to audit and recovery, to mobility management and cost allocation. To learn more, visit www.telwares.com.

About Telwares

Telwares is the leading provider of telecommunications spend management solutions to the Global 2000. Headquartered in Denver, Telwares serves the TEM industry's largest client base representing every industry across the globe. Telwares clients saved more than $5 billion from the $15 billion of contracts negotiated, and the company currently holds $6.6 billion of telecom services under management. Telwares customers additionally profit through the expertise of a management team comprised of industry experts and thought leaders well known to the industry. For more information, visit www.telwares.com.

Contact:

Lynda Stadtmueller

973-952-5543

lynda.stadtmueller@telwares.com

Alice Ducq

301-774-5005

aliced@percepture.com